DELTA BROADCASTING

Changes at Delta College Quality Public Broadcasting

There is a great deal of power when public broadcasting has a strong presence in our local communities. Delta College's Public Broadcasting has been a foundational part of local towns and cities in the Great Lakes Bay Region for over 53 years. We love being a part of the PBS family through WDCQ-TV and the NPR network through WUCX-FM 90.1.

Delta College takes great pride in the fact that we are one of just a dozen or so community colleges in the nation to hold the license to a Public TV station; and for us, there's a Public Radio station as well. We feel it is part of our community service mission. Our commitment has allowed us to impact our region for decades by offering a tremendous level of community programming and service.

Were you aware of the important facts below?

- WDCQ's viewership includes 45,000 households weekly, each with multiple residents.
- Over the course of a year, 82% of all U.S. television households watch PBS.
- PBS is #1 in Public Trust, as measured with the public in January 2016.
- PBS reaches more children ages 2-5 than any other TV network and 71% of all children ages 2-8 watch PBS.
- WUCX-FM is part of the NPR network of more than 1,000 public radio stations, which reaches 30.2 million listeners weekly.
- 86% of listeners consider NPR "personally important to them."

Although our team is small, we are now preparing to fill a vacuum that may soon exist in the Genesee, Lapeer and Flint area. WCMZ-TV, that area's PBS station for a number of years, has been sold as part of the FCC Spectrum Auction and is scheduled to go off the air in 2018. Delta College's WDCQ-TV signal strongly reaches the far southern areas of this region, so we are working with cable and satellite providers to be able to fill any gaps as they occur. Stay tuned for more news on this front in the future.

Delta College is also continuing to look for ways to offer new services. Those may include first responder services, datacasting or other community connections requiring the use of the airwaves. We remain committed to bringing those new opportunities to our part of the country, as the technology changes and makes new services available.

Thank you for your ongoing support and financial contributions. It is with your commitment that we continue to be an award-winning Public TV and Public Radio service and, we hope, remain a large part of the lives of the citizens here in Mid-Michigan.

What is Delta College Public Broadcasting?

Q-TV and Q-90.1 FM are trusted public services dedicated to building an exciting and productive future for the Great Lakes Bay Region and beyond. We offer a window on the world through national, state and local television and radio programming. And, we create a forum for the most important issues facing our region with locally produced award-winning programming.

Delta College Public Broadcasting remains committed to our mission - educating, informing and inspiring through commercial-free radio, television and other media, touching the lives of all citizens by providing quality programming and services.

Great Public Radio Programming on WUCX-FM (Q-90.1)

Q-90.1 FM features in-depth reporting from NPR. Local reports and features keep you in touch with what's happening in our community. With our music programs, you'll hear jazz, blues, classical and a variety of Latin styles you won't hear anywhere else on the dial.

Funding for Delta College's Public Broadcasting Operations

Building the funding needed to purchase great programs from PBS and NPR, produce local programs, and to operate our public broadcasting stations, takes a variety of sources. Individuals and businesses within our Great Lakes Bay Region have been generous over the decades, and continue to do so.

Q-TV Community Outreach

Serving young children and their parents, caregivers and teachers has always been a hallmark of public TV, especially here at WDCQ-TV. As technology advances, public TV has remained on the cutting edge. And, with increased research in child development, PBS Kids has been a leader in meeting children's needs.

Beyond the research, however, sometimes it's just great to offer children in our viewing area the opportunity to "meet" some of the friends and characters they see on TV.

Daniel Tiger Visits Grace A. Dow Library, Midland Center for the Arts & Mid-Michigan Children's Museum

In December 2016, Q-TV partnered with Midland Center for the Arts & Mid-Michigan Children's Museum to bring Daniel Tiger into the area. Daniel visited the Grace A. Dow Library and the Midland Center for Arts to promote their Winter break events. Daniel also visited the Mid-Michigan Children's Museum for their New Year's day-time event.

Martha Speaks Visits Local Library

In March 2017, Q-TV partnered with the Goodland Township Library to bring in Martha of Martha Speaks for their reading event. Families had their photos taken with Martha, made crafts and worked on coloring sheets of Martha and her friends.

Curious George Visits Delta College Planetarium

Q-TV partnered with the Delta College Planetarium in May 2017 to bring in Curious George to help celebrate their 20th anniversary. George was available for photos and high-fives with families and helped greet over 1,000 people.

Wild Kratts Visit Dow Event Center

Q-TV partnered with the Dow Event Center's Heritage Theater in Saginaw to bring in Wild Kratts Live! in May 2017. Our viewers were able to experience the Kratt Brothers, Chris and Martin, live-on-stage with their astounding "creature" fundamentals, infectious excitement and their inspiring quests.

Masterpiece Theater

PBS' Masterpiece Theater is one of the most popular drama series in TV history. It brings the best in classic adaptations, mysteries filled with eclectic characters, and provocative contemporary works.

Victoria on Masterpiece, Season 1 Preview Screening

In January 2017, Q-TV partnered with Delta College to host a free preview of Victoria in the Delta College Lecture Theater, along with a tea and scones reception. More than 50 community members attended. Also featured was a presentation by a Delta College history professor who spoke about the issues and events taking place during the Victorian era, both in Great Britain and the United States.

Rare Screener at the Chippewa Nature Center

In June 2017, Q-TV partnered with the Chippewa Nature Center to host a free preview screening of the first hour of the three-part series, Rare - Creatures of the Photo Ark. More than 50 community members attend the event hosted at the Chippewa Nature Center.

WUCX-FM (Q-90.1) Community Outreach

Delta College's Public Radio station focuses on interviews and performance opportunities, to highlight local issues and topics of community interest. Local programming includes music and entertainment, public affairs commentary, college and general public information.

Q-90.1 teamed up with the Rotary Club of Saginaw for their main charity event of the year. The February 2017 event offered music from 15 local acts on three stages at the historic Temple Theatre in Saginaw. Q-90.1's Jeff Scott helped emcee one of the stages.

Q-TV Local Programming

Locally produced series reaching under-served audiences

Q-TV's locally produced programs focus on African American, Hispanic and senior audiences, showcasing the critical challenges and successes within our region. Q-TV local hosts aggressively engage their guests, seeking solutions and opportunities.

Q-TV and Q-90.1 are committed to producing local programs as part of our educational mission to help provide understanding and perspective about our community.

Soul Issue: The African-American Perspective

Soul Issue: The African-American Perspective is aimed at illuminating issues affecting members of the African American community in the Great Lakes Bay Region. Hosted by Darold Newton, the program discusses topical issues, community leaders, interesting individuals, and highlights historical milestones, thus promoting positive African American role models, positive lifestyles and healthy relationships.

Dateline Delta

Dateline Delta casts a spotlight on student and staff activities at Delta College. The College touches thousands of lives each year, and Q-TV embraces the opportunity to communicate the educational efforts of Delta College through this unique program. The monthly news magazine is hosted by Delta College Trustee R. Earl Selby, and highlights the College's educational efforts, campus events and service to the community.

Somos Hispanos

This news magazine, hosted by Nina Hageness, focuses on the Mid-Michigan Hispanic community. Somos Hispanos highlights the history, heritage, arts, culture, activities and struggles of the Hispanic community, the everyday issues they face and people in the community making a positive difference.

Q-TV Local Programming

Currently Speaking

Hosted live each week by Andy Rapp, Currently Speaking is a weekly one-hour primetime program devoted to discussing major local, national and global issues with expert guests. Viewers can phone in and join the discussion or steer the discussion toward topics closer to them. Public affairs are an important component to the station's programming and showcase the community's challenges, successes, thoughts and concerns. Delta College students assist in the production of this locally-produced series giving them valuable career experience.

The programs provided by Delta Broadcasting help to expand my horizons, my mind, and my play-list! The stories, music, news, opinions, and documentaries have an enlightening way of reminding us to look at our world in a different way.

Wanda
Essexville, MI

We offer a rich, diverse service as a window for viewers and listeners to connect to the world around them.

Second Act: Life at 50+

Q-TV completed its eighth season of Second Act: Life at 50+ in 2017. This series examines a variety of "life stage" issues affecting those 50 years of age and over. Hosted by broadcast veteran Mike Redford, Second Act examines the broad spectrum of issues facing people over 50, ranging from careers, recreation, civic engagement, health and financial concerns. The show has received awards and positive audience response as it features events and activities directly related to seniors in our community.

Electronic Media (EM) Curriculum

Delta College offers an Electronic Media program, leading to an Associate of Arts degree. The curriculum provides students hands-on learning opportunities with current technology in the fields of broadcasting and multimedia production. Utilizing equipment within both WDCQ-FM and WDCQ-TV, as well as lab space, students develop the ability to produce audio, video and multimedia productions, from the visualization stages, planning, pre-production and production to the final product.

Q-TV Premiered

Sailing into the Past

Q-TV premiered its newest documentary, Sailing into the Past, in March 2017. Q-TV's Producer/Directors Bob Przybylski, Marshall Fulmer and Matt Murphy traveled aboard the El Galeón Andalucía, a replica of a 16th century Spanish galleon, from Fairport Harbor, Ohio to Bay City, documenting their trip aboard and telling the story of the ship and her crew. El Galeón Andalucía is the only Spanish Galleon sailing in the world today. These type of ships were used by the Spanish Crown for maritime expeditions to the Americas between the 16th and 18th centuries.

Coal in the Valley: Mid-Michigan Mining History

Coal was first discovered in Michigan around 1835, but mining didn't take off until around 1890 when the lumber industry began to decline. This documentary showcases how the coal mining industry brought new faces and new opportunities to the Great Lakes Bay Region.

At the height of the coal mining industry, there were over 160 mines scattered across the state and the vast majority of Michigan's coal was produced in the Tri-County area. Long hours, minimal pay, and constant danger made for a hard life in mid-Michigan's coal mines.

Q-TV's Chapter Documentaries

Designed to expand our relationships within the communities we serve, Q-TV is proud to announce a partnership with local historical societies and community members to develop a series of historical "Chapter" documentaries. The development of locally focused, 40-minute Chapter documentaries will allow Q-TV to expand the telling of the unique and historically significant stories of our individual local communities.

Frankenmuth Documentary

WDCQ's is currently working on its newest documentary about the history of Frankenmuth, Michigan; the number one tourist destination in Michigan. The program will focus on the settlement of Frankenmuth and where the first immigrants came from, the creation of the tourist industry, businesses, and farming. It will look at the construction of Frankenmuth Holz Brücke (covered bridge) and Frankenmuth's transformation into a tourist destination.

Q-TV is a shining star in our region. It serves folks that are unable to venture out beyond their homes. My children were raised on PBS Kids, and Q-TV continues to be the most viewed station in our home.

Alicia Frankenlust, MI

Connection to Academics (TV)

2017 Delta Commencement

The Public Broadcasting department, with a full crew of students from the Electronic Media curriculum, worked to broadcast and record the 2017 commencement ceremony. The ceremony was seen by overflow crowds on campus and live on Q-TV's MH2 Worldview Channel. It was later broadcast to allow those who couldn't attend the event, the opportunity to celebrate and see their graduate.

Delta College's Phi Theta Kappa: Honors in Action - Olympic Edition

The Public Broadcasting department helped the Delta College's Phi Theta Kappa Honor students produce a program that covered issues that affect the public. This episode covered the students' research on whether there is any benefit to hosting the Olympic Games.

Community Outreach

Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholarship

Q-TV produced the annual (2017) Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholarship Recipients video. This video features 15 students from area high schools who are this year's winners of the Martin Luther King, Jr. scholarships awarded by the Bay, Saginaw and Midland Community Foundations.

As part of receiving their scholarships, the students take part in the recording of a Martin Luther King, Jr. speech that is shown at the Regional Martin Luther King, Jr. Dinner held at Saginaw Valley State University in January. This year's speech was taken from a May 1960 article that appeared in "The Progressive" magazine entitled "The Burning Truth in the South: The Importance of Youth in the Broader Civil Rights Struggle."

In addition to being shown at the dinner, it is also broadcast on QTV's locally produced "SOUL ISSUE: The African American Perspective", and on the SOUL ISSUE website.

STEM in the Great Lakes Bay Region

Under the leadership of the Great Lakes Bay Regional Alliance, our region conducted a “STEM Impact Initiative” in 2014. This resulted in findings and recommendations intended to help our region meet the requirements for building a STEM Talent Pipeline, which is so crucial for the economic future of our regional employers.

Delta College continues to embrace its leadership role in this initiative and is working to build a culture of STEM among middle- and high-school students. Delta’s research has determined this to be the point they start to think about careers. The development of talent must start at an early age, which is why the STEM Explorer seeks to inspire students in all aspects of STEM.

Delta College’s STEM Explorer Vehicle

In 2014, Trustees of The Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation agreed to provide $4 million to Delta College to fund the STEM Explorer Project. The STEM Explorer is a 38-foot recreational vehicle, complete with state-of-the-art equipment intended to teach science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) to students and residents throughout the region.

Delta College’s STEM Explorer mobile classroom saw great results in its first year on the road:

- Met with 3,300 middle school students and 60 of their teachers
- Worked with 750 students at 50 high schools in six counties
- About 3,000 children and adults took part in 13 community events
- 40 area teachers received comprehensive training in the new Michigan Science Standards
- 250 individuals were present at a Delta College STEM Explorer Deep Dive Conference, with the region’s foremost STEM leaders

STEM in the Great Lakes Bay Region

Public Broadcasting Expertise in STEM Video Production

A team of area K-12 teachers, industry experts, and Delta faculty and staff created fun, meaningful and inspiring activities and learning modules to spark interest in STEM. And, they turned to Delta College's Public Broadcasting staff to help develop training videos.

Equipped with an abundance of iPads and laptop computers on board, the training modules now have step-by-step videos to lead students through experiments and exercises. Broadcasting staff members wrote scripts, shot video and edited the content into easily digested instructions for all who are learning on the STEM Explorer vehicle.

Strong Connections to PBS' STEM Programming

Programming from PBS Kids and through the regular PBS schedule for adults, can be very instructive for our viewers. Our STEM collection of shows helps young children understand science, technology, engineer, and math concepts, such as measuring, building and simple machines.

They learn to ask questions, predict outcomes, share observations and build study habits. And, as viewers grow up, we continue to present scientific programs through Nova and Nature.

Delta College Public Broadcasting is critical to helping us get the word out to young and old alike about the value of science and math. STEM - Science, Technology, Engineering and Math – is so important to our Great Lakes Bay Region and beyond. And Delta College plays a huge role in getting area students the education they need for those good jobs. As a matter of fact, 128 of the College's 150 certificate or degree programs are STEM-related!

Dr. Goodnow, President, Delta College

Q-TV Programs of Interest to the Community

Q-TV provides its viewers with programming that addresses their present and future concerns about health, environment, education, local and state government, arts, culture and quality of life. Q-TV has a rich history and tradition of being attentive to our viewer's needs.

Factory: "The Factory" is a documentary film that focuses on the importance of factory work to 20th Century small-town America by detailing the rise and fall of what the locals called "The Factory" on South M-66 in Ionia, Michigan. As perhaps the most significant employer on the Grand River between Lansing and Grand Rapids, this facility made world-renowned reed and wicker furniture, fabricated jeep seats and tarpaulins for the assembled legendary "muscle cars" such as the Shelby Cobra and Corvette Stingray.

Brushback—A Legacy of Black Baseball in West Michigan: Brushback chronicles West Michigan's black baseball history dating back to 1906. The pitching aces and home-run hitters who excelled were respected athletes; the men who wore the uniforms had families, worked jobs and were pillars in the community. Despite their athletic ability and community standing, Negro League players dodged injustice, ridicule and racial discrimination just like a brushback pitch.

Winona—A Copper Country Ghost Town: Winona, Michigan, a former copper mining town 33 miles south of Houghton is fast becoming a "ghost town." The town's population has shrunk from an estimated 1,000+ in 1920 to perhaps 13 residents today. Noted documentary filmmaker and sociologist, Dr. Michael Loukinen has created this beautiful, fascinating and elegiac film documenting the community's history and demise.

Hope College Christmas Vespers 2015: HOPE COLLEGE CHRISTMAS VESPERS, 2015 is an all new production from WGVU-TV, taped from performances of the concert during the first weekend of December.

Evening with the Michigan Governor: Governor Rick Snyder and First Lady Sue Snyder reflect on the past year in Michigan politics with Off the Record anchor Tim Skubick.

2017 State of the State Address: Michigan Governor Rick Snyder lays out his new legislative year agenda.

Run, Jump, Paddle: RUN, JUMP, PADDLE explores the challenges that extreme athletes encounter in their unlikely realms. In this documentary, one athlete dives through the atmosphere, another paddles the freezing waves of Lake Huron in February, and a third runs from Florida to Michigan, battling a more insurmountable challenge than the distance itself.

Inside Grand Hotel: Viewers will explore Grand Hotel's iconic spaces to learn what has made this unique property an icon of success for more than 125 years. Cameras will become virtual guests at the hotel, exploring some of the rooms and suites that most guests never see while sharing how the hotel continues to find new ways to pamper and promote the relaxation of its guests.

Irene—Child of the Holocaust: The true story about the family of 10-year-old Irene Miller and her harrowing escape from Nazi-occupied Poland into Russia. Little does she know that soon she will discover a deeper meaning of ethnic persecution and torture.

Creating Local Impact

Q-TV researched, produced and aired stories about the people, history and culture of our viewing area.

Our local documentaries bring to life the history, development and accomplishments of our community, reconnecting us to our past.

Both Q-TV and Q-90.1 act as the glue that binds the mission and vision of our region's libraries, museums and performing arts centers together through our local productions, interviews, documentaries and performance programming.

Making a Positive Difference

The Great Lakes Bay Region is composed of area Chambers of Commerce, businesses and industry leaders who have partnered with Delta College, Q-TV and Q-90.1. Delta College Public Broadcasting is a regional cornerstone, serving as a communicator to provide unrivaled access for discussion of regional issues for our economically challenged state.

Serving a region composed of multiple industries including manufacturing, technology, farming, shipping, construction, travel, transportation and education, Q-TV's four-channel digital service is well positioned to play a key role in the economic revival of our region.

Delta College Public Broadcasting has used its broadcast resources, leveraged by community dollars, to educate, inform and entertain its audience. Our community believing in Q-TV and Q-90.1 is what makes a positive difference.

Both our PBS and NPR station are trusted sources of local, state, national and world news coverage. Cultural programming, featuring local artists and events.

Four channels of 24 hours/ seven days a week broadcasting services.

We produce and transmit more locally produced programming for and about the diverse citizens living in our broadcast community than any other public station in the state.

Q-TV and Q-90.1 reaches over 1.4 million people a year. We were the first TV station in the state of Michigan to offer digital programming.

As Delta College's Public Broadcasting moves into its second 50 years of quality broadcasting, we stay committed to locally produced community service programs that address the issues and opportunities facing our region.
