Funds for Camp Rather Short

But Governor Will Use of the State Militia Fund.

Governor Terrell and Adjutant Robertson are very much won over by the news that they have received from Washington to the effect that it is only $25,000 available to pay the expenses of the encampment of the Georgia troops, instead of the $16,800 less than they had calculated on the subject, and now, as the work is being completed for the end to be reached, they have just been notified that.

This state of affairs involves the question of an end for all the troops in some doubt. Governor Terrell does not know yet what steps he will take in the matter, but does not know until the calculation of the expenses of the encampment have been completed and laid before him. This work is now being done by W. G. Obear, inspector general, and he will lay it before the governor, as he has done before.
