MPT: Working Locally for You

Maryland Public Television is your place for high-quality artistic programming, safe and educational kids' shows, independent news and journalism, and programs that focus on your life and your community. Nowhere else will you find a channel like MPT, because we really belong to you –you set the agenda, not some faceless bigwig at a network headquarters. Being a member means you've chosen to give back to MPT, to support its future stability and to affirm your commitment to the ideals that make MPT a safe haven for those who appreciate quality television without commercial influence or interruption.

Why Support MPT?

Everyone has favorite programs and, for many, maintaining those programs is reason enough to give. But we're much more than just a TV station: MPT is a resource for teachers through our online educational portals; we leverage our visibility to strengthen community initiatives such as Chesapeake Bay Week and The Big Read; we play a vital role in connecting people with the resources they need to improve lives with phone banks around our Financial Literacy initiative and the Campaign for Love & Forgiveness; we go out into the community and hold discussions in hometowns all over the state about what people want from their local public TV station, and how we can be more useful. When you give a gift of support, you're doing more than pledging for your favorites –you're bettering the community we live in.

What Does My Membership Entail?

With your gift of support today, you'll receive 12 months of our members' only MPT Program Guide, information on special events and opportunities, and the satisfaction of knowing you've done your part to strengthen public television in your community.

Make a difference today.
